STRONG TESTIMONY FOR THE DEFENSE

Evidence That the Lattimer Strikers Had Been Very Seditious.

HAD THREATENED MANY WITH DEATH

Many Witnesses Give Instances of Gross and Continuous Lawlessness Among the Men for Days Prior to the Final Tragedy—Law and Order Practically Ignored and Mob Rule Substituted in Its Stead.

Wilkes-Barre, Feb. 23.—There was joy among the Martin jurors today when Justice Woodward told them they could at any time take baths at a bath house where everybody else would be excluded. They have been occupying their cramped court house quarters now for three weeks.

August Winick, who worked at Cranberry, testified that on Sept. 3, seven days before the fatal shooting, a crowd of strikers told the workmen there they must quit or they would be hurt. He and others went home. On the day before the shooting they tried to go to work but were stopped on the road and told they would be killed if they went to the workings. They went home.

Ludwig Laubs, of Cranberry, stated that he refused to go home when ordered to do so by the strikers and in consequence he was struck in the back with a stone thrown by a striker, and badly hurt. Witness said he was so afraid of the strikers that he carried a revolver for the first time in his life.

Other witnesses gave evidence in support of a corroborative nature concerning the alleged lawlessness of the strikers before the shooting occurred.

STRIKERS WERE ROYALISTS

Jacob Williams, tins keeper of the Cranberry breaker, gave some interesting testimony relative to the movements of the strikers from Sept. 3 to Sept. 20. "On Sept. 3, a week before the shooting," he said, "the McAdoo strikers stoned the breaker office at Cranberry. They stopped a coal train and stoned the conductor and engineer. They were armed with clubs and pieces of iron. They tried to stop the Crystal Ridge strippers on Sept. 7. They were sixty or seventy of them, but the strippers at four depots were present. The sheriff told them they were doing wrong and violating the law, and they went back again."

"On Sept. 10 we got word that the Harwood strikers were coming. I saw them marching into Crystal Ridge and saw several small parties leave the main body and run to the houses to bring out the men living there. The men fled to the bushes, but a few were caught and compelled to join the strikers. When the main body reached the breaker they armed themselves with clubs and iron staves from the scrap heap and then marched on to West Hazelton."

A. R. Dreemer corroborated Williams' testimony in general and added that he saw the Harwood men on Sept. 10 at Crystal Ridge draw a map out of the bushes, where he was hiding and club him viciously with red clubs. One of these clubs which he had found was exhibited in evidence. It looked like a portion of a curtain pole.

AFTERNOON TESTIMONY.

The first witness this afternoon, Mrs. A. Heister, of West Hazelton, said she told the boarders at her house to hide in the church, where they would be safe from the strikers, and they did so.

William Steible saw on Sept. 16 the Harwood strikers beating Andrew Worshak, who had been hiding from them at Crystal Ridge. He took the man home and sent for Dr. Robertson, who found the man's left arm and shoulder a mass of bruises.

Mrs. Carrie Haas, of Cranberry, saw the strikers drag a man out of his home by the arms and saw them fire two shots at some fleeing men. The man dragged out of his house had been sick in bed. She is a German and understands Polish and attended a meeting at Cranberry on the day before the shooting. The people at the meeting were Hungarians and Poles. One of the speakers said: "If the English-speaking people get their jobs back and we don't get ours then every breaker in the region will go up in the air."

The witness explained that they meant either to blow up the breaker with dynamite or set fire to it. This evidence was only admitted after a lengthy argument. "When they found I was a German woman," she said, "they would say nothing more in my hearing."

OTHER EVIDENCE.

John Mummy said two shots were fired at him as he ran into the bushes. Gustav Jack, of Cranberry, told how he had hidden and forced to join their ranks. Joseph Ermold, of Hazelton, said when the strikers tried to stop him on Sept. 10 he drew a revolver, whereupon they let him pass peacefully, but threatened to fix him that night.

John Beach, foreman of the Harwood colliery, was the witness of the day. He said: "On Sept. 3 I heard the McAdoo men were coming and told all my men to go home."

"When the strikers came some of them wanted to cut the rope of No. 2 plane. A carload of men was being hauled up and if the rope had been cut they would have been killed."

"On Monday, Sept. 6, a crowd of Harwood men, armed with clubs and stones, came to the breaker and went through it, looking for men who were hiding from them. They found none, and the leaders, Joe Esholski and John Kubitski, told me that if any of them came to work they would be killed."

"That night I got twenty proclamations from the sheriff and posted them from Cranberry to Harwood. I read one and the riot act to several men, men who had just told me the McAdoo men had agreed to remain on strike until their demands were granted. Between Sept. 6 and 10 we tried several times to get the breaker started, but the strikers would not work were driven back by the strikers and threatened with death."

The cross-examination did not break down the testimony at all.

THREATENED WITH DEATH.

W. H. Snyder, master mechanic and assistant superintendent of the Silver Brook coal company, said that a few days before the Lattimer shooting the McAdoo strikers marched there and told them to stop working. They did so and then the strikers pulled out the fires, chased out the firemen and said if there was any more work, everybody would be killed and the breaker torn down. They then smashed every window in the blacksmith shop. A few days before, while driving, a striker shot at him. Snyder returned the fire and there was an exchange of shots, neither was hit and the striker ran away.

This closed the testimony of the day.

THE MARKETS.

Wall Street Review.

New York, Feb. 23.—Today's further decline in stocks undoubtedly reflected a condition of real apprehension in the minds of holders of securities as to the development of the Cuban question. Commission house orders to sell were in large volume even at the opening and these soon swept away the advances over Monday's level. Orders were immediately arranged by the use of the cable to establish a higher range of prices in London over the holiday. There was professional buying here at the opening designed to the same end, but not even the first quotations were up to the London price. Gains were speedily wiped out by the slump which followed. The predominance of the professional attempt to sustain prices. The uncovering of margins and selling orders to stop losses brought a flood of stocks on the market. Chicago Grain Market.

Chicago, Feb. 23.—Wheat was heavy all day and at the close showed declines of 1/2c. in the May option and 1/4c. in July. The market was affected principally by the decline in the English market. Oats were firm after a weak opening and closed a shade higher. Provisions were irregular, pork declining 1/2c. while lard and ribs did not change much. Sheep and lambs were unchanged.
